INTRODUCTION

This book features a statistical history of football in Ireland from 1881 to 1920 and of Northern Ireland from 1920 to 2014. More precisely, this follows the clubs who were members of the Irish Football Association and Irish League formed initially to cover the whole of Ireland but which continued to oversee football in Northern Ireland after the partition of the country in 1921.

The Irish Football Association was founded on the 18th November, 1880 at a meeting in the Queen's Hotel in Belfast presided over by Mr John Sinclair. The original idea had come from Mr John McAlery (founder of Cliftonville FC, Ireland's first football club in 1879), who was intrigued after seeing football being played while on his honeymoon in Edinburgh in 1878. Mr McAlery arranged for a challenge match between local players from Belfast and a selection of players from the Scottish clubs Queen's Park FC and Caledonian FC. This match was played on 24th October, 1878 at Ulster Cricket Ground, Ballynafeigh and was won 3-1 by the Scots.

The meeting of 18th November, 1880 was attended by representatives of Belfast clubs Avoniel FC, Cliftonville FC, Distillery FC, Knock FC, Oldpark FC and also Alexander FC (Limavady) and Moyola Park FC (Castledawson). Major Spencer Chichester was appointed as the first president of the Association and Mr McAlery as the first secretary. Having formed an official association the next step was to introduce an official tournament and the draw for the inaugural Irish F.A. Cup was made on 10th January, 1881 with the above named clubs as entrants. The entrance fee for the IFA Cup was 1/- (one shilling = 5 pence in today's currency) which was the same as the annual fee for membership of the IFA.

Following the success of the Irish Cup, the Irish League was formed in 1890 with Mr W. McNeice as the first president. The founding members of this league were: Clarence FC, Cliftonville FC, Distillery FC, Glentoran FC, Linfield FC, Milford FC (Armagh), Oldpark FC, Ulster FC. All the clubs were based in the city of Belfast except for Milford FC whose home town was Armagh. Football in Ireland remained strictly an amateur affair until 1894 when a vote in favour of professionalism was passed with a 64–30 majority at the IFA annual meeting, a similar motion having been previously defeated since first proposed in 1882.

In 1920 all clubs from the south of Ireland resigned from the Irish League and the Irish FA to join the newly formed Irish Free State FA and Irish Free State League, today's Football Association of Ireland (Republic of Ireland). As the majority of the members of the Irish League were located in Northern Ireland, this did not prove to be a problem and the League continued much the same as before with the number of members increasing in subsequent years. The first major change to the League structure occurred in 1995 when the League was split into two divisions – the "Premier Division" and the "First Division" – both are covered in this book. In 1999, a "Second Division" was also added to the League structure after the Intermediate level "B Divison – Section 1" was renamed, but the next major change came in 2003 when the Irish FA took charge of the top flight of Northern Irish football. The Premier Division became the new "Irish Premier League" and was the only senior league in Northern Irish football as the First Division dropped down to Intermediate level alongside the Second Division. The following season, the Irish Football League was effectively wound up altogether as the Irish FA took over the running of the two IFL divisions and renamed them as the IFA Intermediate League First Division and Second Division, both operating below the Premier League. In 2008, the Premier League was renamed to the "IFA Premiership" and at the same time, the IFA Intermediate League was closed down, with Division One becoming the new "IFA Championship". For the 2008-09 season only, there was also an "IFA Interim Intermediate League" comprising the former members of the IFA Intermediate League who did not meet the criteria for membership of the new IFA Championship. Members of this interim league had one season to make the necessary changes to qualify for membership of the IFA Championship and 10 out of 12 clubs were successful, joining a new "IFA Championship 2" the following season. A new body, the "Northern Irish Football League" took over the running of league football for the 2013-14 season. No change was made to the structure of the league, but the divisions were all renamed to "NIFL" from the "IFA".

In addition to the results of various League matches, Final League tables and Irish Cup results, this book also lists the top goal-scorers for each season, where known.

Most of the data in this book is taken from the defunct "Statistical History of Football" series published by Skye Soccer Books. As in the original series, the full names of clubs are used whenever possible with name-changes, mergers etc. shown as and when they occur. The club names are listed in the following format: Club Name (Home Town/City/Village).

The information contained in this book has been gathered over a number of years and has come from myriad sources although most was collected through personal contacts. The league was extended to 10 clubs for next season

After a dispute between the Irish FA and the County Antrim FA, a new but unofficial Association was formed on 22/12/1912 with the following clubs as members: Belfast Celtic FC (Belfast), Cliftonville FC (Belfast), Derry Celtic FC (Londonderry), Distillery FC (Belfast), Glenavon FC (Lurgan), Glentoran FC (Belfast) and Shelbourne FC.

However, after a series of meetings and proposals, agreement was reached and the "rebel" clubs were re-admitted to the Irish FA and competed in the league/cup for the next season.

IRISH CUP

LINFIELD FC (BELFAST)

The competition was completed to the quarter-final stage on 17th February 1912. However, on 21st February 1912, Cliftonville, Glentoran and Shelbourne resigned from the Irish Football Association, leaving Linfield as the only remaining competitor. These three clubs were among the 7 who resigned from the IFA after a dispute between the Irish FA and the County Antrim FA over ground levies for international matches. These 7 clubs formed an "unofficial" association on 22/12/1912. Another team of mainly Linfield Swifts FC players (Linfield's reserve team) also joined the "new" IFA as Belfast Blues FC. The dispute was however settled in time for the start of the 1912-13 season.

On the 7th May 1912 Linfield were declared holders of the Irish Football Association Challenge Cup for season 1911/12. Winners medals were presented to the Linfield Team which had defeated Bohemians 3-2 in Dublin on 3rd February 1912.

IRISH CUP

SHELBOURNE FC (DUBLIN)

Shelbourne were awarded the cup after both Belfast Celtic and Glentoran were expelled from the competition

Semi-finals

Glentoran FC (Belfast) 1-1, 0-0 Belfast Celtic FC (Belfast)

During the replay on 17th March 1920, Celtic left-back Fred Barrett was ordered off the field of play. This resulted in a spectator running on to the field firing a revolver at the Glentoran fans. This caused panic and rioting in the crowd and the match was abandoned after 70 minutes. A number of spectators were injured, Celtic were found guilty of "lack of control of fans" and were expelled from the cup on 20th March 1920. Belfast Celtic then protested that Glentoran had fielded H. McIlveen who was ineligible as his name was not included on the list submitted to the referee. Glentoran were duly expelled from the competition also. As a result of this double expulsion Shelbourne, the only remaining competitors, were awarded the cup.

The Northern Ireland Football League took over the running of the league competition from the Irish Football Association from the 2013-2014 season onwards. No change was made to the structure of the league itself, but the divisions were renamed to the NIFL Premiership, NIFL Championship 1 and NIFL Championship 2 respectively.
